

UIS Commencement

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS | SPRINGFIELD

53rd Annual Commencement

*Friday, May 10 &
Saturday, May 11, 2024*

Greetings

Donald J. Edwards
Chairman, University of Illinois Board of Trustees

On behalf of the University of Illinois Board of Trustees, and as a proud alumnus, I am honored to bring greetings and congratulations to the Class of 2024.

I hope that these past few years and your experiences here at UIS have been some of the best, most rewarding ... and most challenging ... of your lives.

Although it has been quite a few years since I sat in your seat at my own graduation, I still remember the mix of excitement and anxiety I felt, not knowing exactly what the future would hold. That is understandable.

But rest assured that your experiences here, both in and out of the classroom, have provided you with the foundation to succeed and flourish.

Now take that foundation and build on it. Follow your passions, find your path, and never stop learning.

As you take the next steps in your life's journey, know that you carry a bond that forever connects you to your years on this remarkable campus. You are joining one of the world's largest alumni networks—more than 800,000 strong from across the University of Illinois System's three best-in-class universities. You will find us in just about every country on Earth.

I hope you will carry our flag with pride, with your successes adding to our global reputation for excellence and attracting the new generations of students who want to follow in your footsteps. I hope you also will come back to our beautiful Springfield campus often to share your achievements, your experiences, and your insights.

And, as you are out there building your career and making the world a better place, know that those of us back here at the U of I will still be working for you, ensuring that the value and prestige of your UIS degree will continue to grow.

Congratulations again, Class of 2024!

Dr. Timothy L. Killeen
President, University of Illinois

To the Class of 2024, congratulations!

This day has been many years in the making. But as new graduates of the University of Illinois Springfield, you are ready for the opportunities now ahead of you.

The memories you have made on the way to this day, the friends and colleagues who have become part of your lives, and your journey of discovery have transformed you and given you the tools to navigate what comes next.

Your accomplishments, your ability to adapt and innovate and the sense of civic engagement you have shown during your years at UIS will serve you well for the rest of your life.

Do not let the day pass without reflecting on this milestone with a well-earned sense of pride and achievement. Today is truly among the small handful of days that you will always remember.

Savor it — every minute.

And celebrate with the family and friends who believe in you, those who have helped and supported you along the way.

Remember, too, that we look forward to seeing you back here at UIS and sharing in your discoveries and successes.

I am deeply honored to celebrate with all of you and to welcome you to the family of University of Illinois alumni around the globe.

Congratulations again, Class of 2024!

Dr. Janet L. Gooch
Chancellor, University of Illinois Springfield
Vice President, University of Illinois

Greetings to the Class of 2024!

Congratulations on reaching this significant milestone—your commencement! It's truly an honor to share in this moment of celebration alongside you, your loved ones and the entire UIS community. Today marks a timeless tradition, one that symbolizes the culmination of your hard work and dedication over the years.

Your perseverance has led you to this moment, and I couldn't be prouder of your accomplishments. I extend my gratitude to the faculty, staff, family and friends who have supported you along this journey. Together, we gather to recognize your achievements and celebrate your success.

At UIS, our vision is to be a pathway to opportunity, a catalyst for change and a space of possibility where learners become ethical and passionate scholars, leaders and citizens capable of transforming their local and global communities. As you venture forth, may the leadership lessons learned here serve as a guiding light.

To you and all those joining in today's festivities, I send my heartfelt congratulations and best wishes. Congratulations on earning your degree!

Carly Hawkins '05 CPAE
Capital Scholars Honors Program Graduate
Chair, University of Illinois Springfield Alumni Board

Congratulations on your graduation, and welcome to the UIS Alumni family!

Graduation is a big milestone in a person's life. You have defined yourself, in part, as someone who is a critical thinker, as one who is dedicated and disciplined, and one who embraces learning. As a result, you have an extremely exciting journey ahead. Doors will open which you never knew existed and new opportunities will appear as you pursue your life's dreams, passions, and ambitions.

Graduation is an impressive achievement. Reflect and celebrate your hard work. Give thanks to all those incredibly special people who have supported you along the way. Enjoy this special day!

As you embark upon new beginnings, be confident knowing you share a common bond with a global UIS Alumni community of over 44,000 graduates. Early on in your journey, share your Prairie Star power!

- Proudly display your diploma. You earned it – be proud and show the world you are a graduate of UIS, and what it means to you. Education is to be celebrated.
- Recruit a new student to UIS. The value of our degree will continue to grow with intelligent, hardworking students from diverse backgrounds coming through the doors of our Alma mater.
- Join UIS Unite (unite.uis.edu), the new online community connecting UIS alumni and students for career success and community.
- Make a gift to UIS (www.uis.edu/give) in honor of someone who has supported you.
- Join the Illinois Connection legislative advocacy network: uillinois.edu/erc/advocacy

Wherever life takes you, you will be among those who have earned a University of Illinois degree. Over 850,000 living graduates of the UI System are making a difference in their neighborhoods, their communities, and the world. The UI System is a powerhouse for education and discovery, and widely recognized among the most innovative universities in the world.

Congratulations, Class of 2024! It is your time to embrace all the possibilities which are before you.

Work hard. Be bold. Stay true. Be UIS.

Honorary Degree Recipient

Burks Oakley II

Burks Oakley II is a Professor Emeritus in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering at the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign. From 1997 until 2007, Oakley served as an Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs at the University of Illinois. He was the founding director of the University of Illinois Online initiative, a program designed to facilitate the development and delivery of University of Illinois courses, degrees, and public service resources over the Internet. While active as a faculty member and administrator, his areas of interest included distance education and educational technologies. Through his innovative use of technology in teaching, Professor Oakley earned a national reputation as a practitioner and promoter of Internet-based learning environments.

Oakley received his B.S. degree from Northwestern University and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Michigan. He has received numerous awards for his teaching and for his innovative use of technology in education, including the Luckman Distinguished Undergraduate Teaching Award from UIUC in 1993, the Outstanding Teacher Award from the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) in 1993, the Educom Medal in 1996, the Educational Activities Board Major Educational Innovation Award from the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) in 1996, the Meritorious Service Award from the IEEE Education Society in 1998, the Third Millennium Medal from the IEEE in 2000, the Engineering Alumni Society Merit Award from the University of Michigan in 2003, and the Sloan-C Award for the "Most Outstanding Achievement in Online Teaching and Learning by an Individual" in 2003. He is a Life Fellow of the IEEE, a Fellow of the Online Learning Consortium, a Fellow of the ASEE, and a former Vice President of the ASEE.

Faculty Emeritus

The bestowal of Professor Emeritus status is a recognition of the value the University places on the experience, knowledge, and ability of its retiring faculty. This status is awarded in accordance with the University of Illinois statutes and University of Illinois Springfield policy. The following individuals have been selected to receive Faculty Emeritus status this year.

Kathy DeBarr

Dr. Kathy DeBarr received a Bachelor of Arts in Health Services Administration from Sangamon State University in 1988, a Master of Science in Health Education from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale in 1990, and a doctorate in Health Education from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale in 1993. Dr. DeBarr joined the University of Illinois Springfield as Assistant Professor of Health Services Administration in 1993 and was promoted to Associate Professor of Public Health in 2001. Dr. DeBarr has long-standing teaching and research interests in health education, health administration and public health policy. She has been an active scholar and has made significant service contributions to the university, community and her profession. Before her retirement on January 1, 2024, Dr. Kathy DeBarr had served the university for 31 years.

The academic costume worn at American university exercises has its origin in medieval times. The general garment worn by all, at the time, was a gown or robe, a cape with attached hood (cowl) worn over the gown for warmth, and a cap. Color and other adornments added to the garments indicated social status or wealth. The attire worn by students and teachers was strongly influenced by the cathedrals near the center of study. As schools grew in size and diversity of subjects, teacher guilds began designating their field of study by color, and the color of the garments took on an additional designation. By the 14th century, a cap, pileus quadratus (four-cornered cap), became the standard head dress. Through time, these vestments changed in style but the three items, the cap, gown, and hood, remain in academic costumes.

THE CAP: The pileus quadratus went through its own changes. Originally introduced in Paris, the four corners were long and hung down over the head. Later, the corners were pointed upright and then were stiffened outward by a board (the mortar board). The mortar board, or Oxford style, is the traditional cap worn in American universities.

The cap is black in American universities and is constructed of cloth, with velvet reserved for the doctorate. Various items have been attached to the cap, but the tassel is now standard. The color of the tassel is black for any degree, with gold metallic thread restricted to doctors and governing officials. Occasionally, the color of the tassel will indicate honors.

THE GOWN: The cut of the gown designates the degree. The gown color in American universities – except Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton, and a few others – is black. The bachelor's degree gown is relatively simple, falling in straight lines and distinguished by long pointed sleeves. The master's gown is also relatively straight, but the arm opening is at the elbow, allowing the rest of the sleeve to hang down. Until 1960, the arm emerged through a slit at the elbow, a sleeve was added which closes at the wrist. The original sleeve still hangs down to about the knee. The doctor's gown is rather elaborate, marked by bell sleeves with three velvet bars and velvet panels around the neck and down the front. The cut is also fuller than other gowns. The sleeve bars and trim may be black or of subject color.

THE HOOD: Of the three components of academic costume, the hood conveys the most information. The level of the degree is indicated by the length of the hood and the width of the trim. The bachelor's hood is three feet long with two-inch velvet trim, the master's is three and one-half feet long with three-inch trim, and the doctor's is four feet long with five-inch trim. At UIS, bachelor's degree candidates do not wear hoods.

The color of the trim indicates the subject area of the degree: white signifies Arts; peacock blue signifies Public Administration, tan for Business Administration, salmon pink for Public Health, light blue for Education, pink for Music, scarlet for Theology, lemon for Library Science, and so on. There are 35 such designations.

The final information conveyed by the hood is the institution that awarded the degree to the wearer. The color designation for UIS is a royal blue field with a white chevron. Each school has its own color designator. For example, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is a navy blue field with two orange chevrons. Although there is an attempt not to overlap color designators, a number of schools may have the same colors. For example, 39 universities in addition to UIS have royal blue field with white chevron.

The colored cords worn by participants identify students as scholars of distinction who have demonstrated a commitment to learning at a high level of achievement. It is believed by some historians that the wearing of honors cords is older and more traditional than the stoles that are also used by Greek honor societies since the cord recalls the teaching and contemplative orders of the Middle Ages when members of these honor societies wore knotted cords to remind them of their duties. The students who wear these honors cords in our commencement ceremonies today symbolize the University of Illinois Springfield's historical success in attracting capable students who are exemplary scholars committed to a life of learning.

Development of the Campus

The University of Illinois Springfield is located on 746 acres on the southeast side of the capital city, near Lake Springfield. The campus comprises:

The Legacy Campus, built in the early 1970s, is home to the university's first buildings. Originally intended as "temporary," these buildings have been renovated for many purposes over the years. Among their current occupants are Health Services, International Student Services, Diversity Center, NPR Illinois radio, Cox Children's Center, art studios and music rehearsal rooms, Human Resources, and the exercise science, athletic training, and nursing academic programs.

Norris L Brookens Library was completed in 1975. A major learning/resource center designed to support the university's academic programs, the library also houses Brookens Auditorium; the Center for Online Learning, Research and Service; and the Center for Academic Success and Advising.

Public Affairs Center, opened in 1980, houses the College of Public Affairs and Education, the university's administrative offices, the Center for State Policy and Leadership, and the UIS Performing Arts Center, which hosts more than 100 music, theater and dance performances annually.

Health and Sciences Building, opened in 1992, houses UIS biological and physical sciences and the computer science program in high-tech labs. The building is also home to the College of Health, Science and Technology and the UIS Visual Arts Gallery.

Lincoln Residence Hall, completed in 2001, is a residential facility for freshmen and sophomores.

University Hall, opened in 2004, is home to the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences, College of Business and Management, and the offices within the Division of Enrollment and Retention Management, including Admission, Financial Assistance and Office of the Registrar.

The Recreation and Athletic Center, opened in 2007, houses a sports arena, fitness facilities, and an indoor track. The arena is home to the UIS Prairie Stars men's and women's basketball teams and the volleyball team.

Founders Residence Hall, opened in 2008, houses freshmen and sophomores. The 200-bed facility also features classrooms, the Esports Arena and the administrative offices of the Division of Student Affairs.

The UIS Student Union, opened in January 2018 on the south end of the quad. The two-story, 50,000-square-foot facility is a hub for student life and fosters a sense of community on campus. It includes dining services, a coffee shop, a ballroom, the Student Leadership Center, volunteer offices and workspaces for student organizations.

About the University of Illinois Springfield

The University of Illinois Springfield was established in 1970 as Sangamon State University and became the third university in the University of Illinois System in 1995. For its first 30 years, the university was an “upper division” university, enrolling only juniors, seniors and graduate students. It quickly became renowned for its focus on serving the needs of adults who wanted to finish their undergraduate degrees or earn a master’s degree.

UIS enrolled its first class of Capital Scholars Honors freshmen in 2001 and then expanded the freshman class significantly in the fall of 2006. With today’s graduating class, UIS now has over 44,000 alumni worldwide. UIS enrolls about 4,600 students annually with more than 100 programs of study.

UIS is a place where leadership is lived every day by faculty, staff and students, who have an abundance of opportunities to collaborate in a supportive community environment. The result is a graduating class comprising today’s and tomorrow’s leaders.

Congratulations to all of our graduates.
